Virginia Compared to the Other States

This annual JLARC reference guide, provided for Virginia legislators, illustrates how Virginia compares in areas such as state taxes and spending, education, health, and transportation. The Virginia Trends section on the next two pages offers a snapshot of trends compared to the previous year.

Sources & Methods

Data used in Virginia Compared to the Other States is from the U.S. Census Bureau, the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the National Association of State Budget Officers, the National Education Association, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the Federal Highway Administration, and other national data sources.

The most current information available for all 50 states is displayed for each of the 38 comparisons. The 50-state average shown in each table weights each state equally and excludes the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

Per capita amounts are calculated using mid-year population estimates from the Census Bureau.

In some comparisons, two states with different rankings may appear to have the same values. Values are shown only to a certain decimal place; actual values are different.

FAST FACTS

- Virginia's per capita state and local revenue increased by $1,231 (15%) from 2012 to 2013.
- Across all 50 states, per capita state and local government revenues increased by an average of 10.3% from 2012 to 2013.
- The primary sources of Virginia's state and local government revenue in 2013 were taxes (45% of revenue); tuition, state hospital charges, interest earnings, and other sources (23%); and federal funds (14%).

Source: U.S. Census Bureau 2013 Census of Governments: State and Local Finances (Sep. 2015); annual population estimates (Jul. 2013).

Note: Per capita state and local revenue numbers in comparisons 9 and 10 do not sum to the combined per capita state and local revenues in this comparison, because the Census Bureau eliminates intergovernmental transactions – such as state payments to localities for car tax relief – from combined state and local amounts.

FAST FACTS

- The percentage of persons under 65 covered by health insurance in Virginia increased from 86.0% in 2013 to 87.5% in 2014.
- In 2014, 75.6% of Virginians under 65 years of age had private insurance through an employer or direct purchase, and 15.0% had government health insurance in the form of Medicare, Medicaid, or military health care (and 3.1%* had a combination of private and government insurance).

Source: U.S. Census Bureau American Community Survey (2014).

Terms: The U.S. Census Bureau broadly classifies health insurance as a plan provided through an employer or a union, or purchased by an individual from a private company or government coverage. This includes Medicare, Medicaid, military health care, the Children's Health Insurance Program, and individual state health plans.

*The 75.6% of Virginians with private health insurance and 15.0% with government health insurance do not add to the 87.5% reported in the table because 3.1% of Virginians have both private and government health insurance.

FAST FACTS

- The nationwide average salary for public school teachers was $56,610. The nationwide average is slightly higher than the 50-state average because of differences in population: several states with higher teacher salaries, such as California and New York, also employ large numbers of teachers.
- In 2013, Virginia had a student-teacher ratio of about 13:1, compared to the nationwide average of 16:1.

- The federal gas tax, collected in all states, is 18.4¢ per gallon.
- The Virginia state gas tax was 16.2¢ per gallon from July 1, 2015 to December 31, 2015.
- Beginning July 1, 2013, Virginia replaced its 17.5¢ per gallon tax on gasoline with a tax on the wholesale price of a gallon of gasoline.

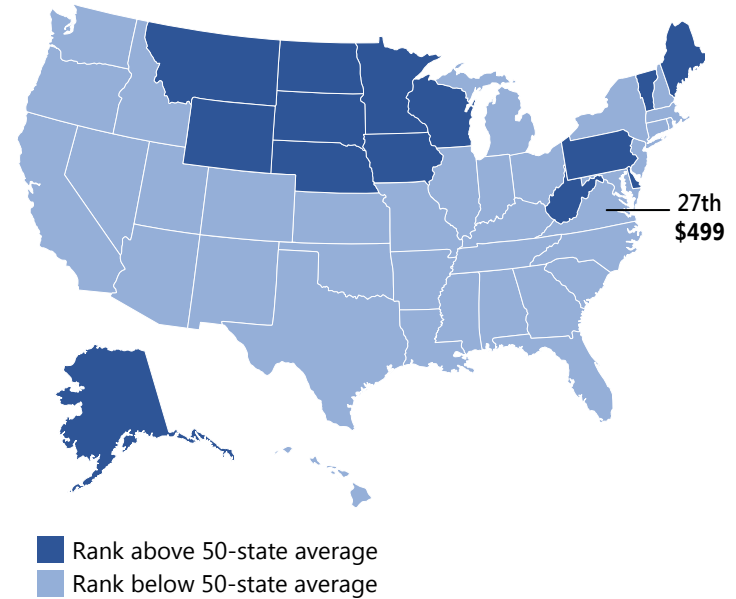

Source: American Petroleum Institute (Oct. 2015); Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles (Jan. 2016).

Terms: State motor fuel tax includes state excise tax and other state taxes and fees. Motor fuel tax applies to unleaded gasoline. A separate Virginia state tax on diesel is 26.0¢ per gallon. State diesel fuel tax varies by state.

*State motor fuel taxes shown in this comparison represent a statewide weighted average. The Virginia rate of 22.3¢ accounts for the 16.2¢ per gallon wholesale tax effective in 2015; a 0.6¢ per gallon petroleum storage tank fee; and a 2.1% sales tax on wholesale motor fuels in localities that are within the Northern Virginia and Hampton Roads Transportation Districts.

Note: The Virginia state motor fuel tax rate is calculated semiannually as 5.1% of a six-month statewide average of wholesale prices for periods after January 1, 2015.
